What is the 'Central Club'?

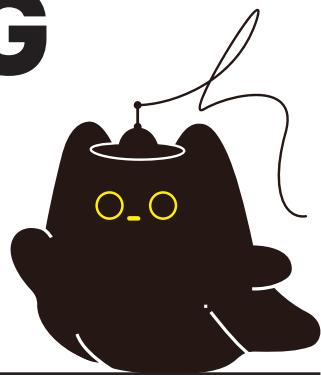

A 'club' is a place where individuals who share similar interests or hobbies gather. The 'Central Clubs' at Sungkyunkwan University go beyond this by being affiliated with the Club Union and having undergone formal registration procedures. Each of them leads the student culture at Sungkyunkwan University in their own unique way.

Through on-campus activities such as the Club Fair and the Club Union Festival, the central clubs breathe new life into campus, consistently being at the center of various school festivals. They also contribute to the local community, enhancing our university's reputation with notable achievements and off-campus contributions.

If you want to stand on the 'frontline of romance' through central club activities, the central clubs are always open and welcoming!

Shimsan Hannuri first started in 1980 with the name of "Shimsan Research Society," and the name of the club originated from the pen name of Shimsan Kim Chang-sook, who was an independence activist and the first dean of Sungkyunkwan University. Shimsan Hannuri is a club that used to strive for correctness as a student in accordance with his independence movement spirit and has participated in many student movements since the 1980s. After the end of the student movement period, it changed into a volunteer club in the sense of not losing the original spirit of the club, and now it has become a central volunteer club at Sungkyunkwan University. The spirit of service is a virtue that Sungkyunkwan University considers important enough to be included in the graduation requirements of our school. Simsan Hannuri is trying to prevent volunteer work from being recognized as an activity only for graduation by students and to have students experience true service.
